Job Analysis Questionnaire

Purpose and Instructions

The purpose of the Job Analysis Questionnaire is to obtain current information about a new or existing position. This questionnaire is standardized so the questions are not specific to any job. Complete this questionnaire as honestly, completely and accurately as possible. If two responses seem to fit your situation, check the response that works best. When answering the questions, imagine you are describing your job to someone just hired in your position. Base your answers on what is normal to your current job, not special projects or temporary assignment duties, unless these tasks are a regular part of your job. The questionnaire does not ask about your job performance; only what your position requires you to do.

You are encouraged to work with your supervisor in the completion of Sections A-H. Section I is reserved specifically for employee comments and will not be changed. If you have questions, please feel free to ask your supervisor or call the Human Resources Officer.

Please return this questionnaire to your supervisor.

B. General Purpose of Position

Indicate in one or two sentences the general purpose of the position (or why this job exists). This statement should be a general summary of the responsibilities listed in the next section.

C. Summary of Responsibilities/Duties

Describe specific job responsibilities/duties, listing the most important first. Use a separate statement for each responsibility. Most positions can be described in 6-8 major responsibility areas. Combine minor or occasional duties in one last statement. Give a best estimate of average percentage of time each responsibility takes; however, do not include a duty which occupies 5% or less of your time unless it is an essential part of the job. Each statement should be brief and concise, beginning with an action verb. A list of action verbs is attached for reference but feel free to use other action verbs if they are more appropriate. The box below shows an example.
